ABBAS HUSAIN

1st Assistant

Abbas Husain is a PGA certified teaching professional in Southern California and an accomplished golfer. He's been golfing since the age of three, having passed the Player Ability Test and maintaining a 3 handicap. He has helped hundreds of students improve their swing and lower their score through guided imagery, swing analysis, and targeted lessons. He honed his skills and knowledge through the instruction of master professionals, having graduated from a golf career college and attending PGA seminars. He has over 300 hours of experience teaching group clinics, playing lessons, and coaching to all ages.

His goal is to provide you with distance and accuracy so you can enjoy the game to its fullest. He believes in his students' potential and is enthusiastic in his teaching style. He does a range of motion analysis exercises to assess player flexibility and tightness overall. Through this analysis, he is able to uncover any physical limitations they may have, gains an understanding of their swing type, and identifies ideal positions for their golf swing.

Abbas also focusses on the mental game, as golf is played between the ears. He can assess the current state of your game, and work to fine tune it to achieve the results you desire. He can show you how to become a consistent golfer with statistic tracking through the Coachnow app, V1 swing analysis, and flightscope. He can also directly lower your handicap through short game drills and games.
